

Indiana's Privacy Phone Act has been wonderful for my family. After working full time during the day my husband and I feel that our evening hours need to be spent with our young children, not answering several sales calls. They were even coming on Sundays- this is totally our family time to spend together. It was an invasion of my privacy. Not only were the calls annoying but there were many times the caller was rude. If I am interested in a product or service I will contact them--I don't want them calling me at my home. We definitely do not want any changes done to the Indiana Telephone Privacy law.

Thank you!
